

sent out when essential for the Licensee's experiments, but this method of calling must not be continued in any case where a reply is not received from another experimental station within a reasonable time.

11. Inspection.—The station shall be subject to the approval of the Postmaster General, and together with the record of transmissions and this licence shall be open to inspection at all reasonable times by duly authorized officers of the Post Office, who will produce their cards of identity on request.

12. Non-interference.—The station shall be used in such a manner as to cause no interference with other stations.

The arrangement employed for "keying" the transmitter must be such as to ensure that the risk of interference due to key click being produced in neighbouring apparatus has been reduced to a minimum.

13. Aerial.—The length of the effective portion of the aerial and down lead shall not exceed 150 feet. * An aerial which crosses above or is liable to fall upon or to be blown on to any overhead power wire (including electric lighting and tramway wires) must be guarded to the reasonable satisfaction of the owner of the power wire concerned.

14. Control in emergency.—(a) If and whenever in the opinion of the Postmaster General an emergency shall have arisen in which it is expedient for the public service that His Majesty's Government shall have control over the sending of messages by means of the station it shall be lawful for the Postmaster General to direct and cause the station to be taken possession of in the name and on behalf of His Majesty and to prevent the Licensee from using it and for these purposes or either of them to cause any part of or all the apparatus forming the station to be removed to such place as he may think fit and any person authorized by the Postmaster General may from time to time enter the premises at which the station is maintained for any such purposes as aforesaid.

(b) The Licensee shall not be entitled to any compensation in respect of the exercise by the Postmaster General of the powers conferred by this condition, which shall remain in force notwithstanding the withdrawal or modification of the licence.

NOTES.—(i) Use of supply mains.—If power for the working of the wireless station is taken from a public electricity supply, whether or not a battery eliminator is used, no direct connexion should be made between the supply mains and the aerial.

(ii) Broadcast reception.—This licence does not authorize the reception of broadcast programmes except for experimental purposes. For the reception of broadcast programmes for other than experimental purposes a separate licence is necessary and can be obtained—price 10s.—from a local Post Office.

(iii) Mobile stations.—Mobile stations other than portable experimental stations are forbidden to communicate with experimental stations.

(iv) Copyright.—This licence does not authorize the Licensee to do any act which is an infringement of any copyright which may exist in the matter transmitted.

(v) Return of licence.—When this licence is cancelled or superseded by a new licence it must be returned to the address given at the foot of Page 1.

* If the station is situated within half a mile of the boundary of any aerodrome, the height of the aerial above the ground level shall not exceed 50 feet.
